

International Workshop in Memory of Efthymios (Makis) Tsionas

Topics in Applied Econometrics: Theory and Practice

Department of Economics, Athens University of Economics & Business

September 11–12, 2025

Venue: Troias Building, AUEB Campus, Athens, Greece

Overview

The Department of Economics at the Athens University of Economics & Business (AUEB) is honored to host the International Workshop in Memory of Efthymios (Makis) Tsionas, a distinguished scholar whose pioneering contributions have left a lasting impact on the fields of applied econometrics and Bayesian analysis.

This two-day workshop aims to bring together academics and researchers to present and discuss recent advances in applied econometrics, with an emphasis on theoretical innovation and empirical practice. The event is an opportunity to honor the memory of Makis Tsionas through intellectual exchange in areas where he made profound contributions.

Conference Program

The detailed program will be announced soon.

Organizers

Department of Economics, Athens University of Economics & Business
Stelios Arvanitis and Elias Tzavalis

Venue

Troias Building | 2 Troias, Kimolou & Spetson Street
Athens University of Economics & Business | Athens 112 57, Greece

The venue is centrally located in Athens and easily accessible by public transport.

Sponsor

This event is proudly sponsored by the Bank of Greece.